Tragedy Makes for Model Memorial

Titanic Model Builder Makes Donation to Center School

It was both a proud and somewhat melancholic moment for Ered Matthew, who stood at the head of Center School's Third Grade class last week fielding questions about the infamous Titanic, and the intricate model of the steamship which he meticulously crafted and donated to the school.

Mr. Matthew proudly noted that the detailed model — which he estimated took some 800 to 900 hours to complete — was being given to the students of Center School in memory of the late Richard A. Keyes, his father's best friend and classmate.

"My father and (Mr. Keyes) both went to Center School together," he said. "I thought it would be nice to build the model and dedicate it in memory of Dick (Keyes)."

Mr. Matthew's father, Raymond E. Dextraze, actually purchased the Titanic model kit for him some years ago — but it wasn't until he read a cover story in the April 8, 1994 edition of The Wanderer about instructor Luice Moncevitch's innovative use of the fatal voyage as a learning tool, that he finally decided to build it.

"I knew it would be difficult and it would take a long time to finish," he said. "When my father bought the kit, I put it under my bed and virtually forgot about it ... then I saw the article (last year) and it gave me the

As of July 1, 1995 The Wanderer will be increasing advertising rates by 20%. This increase is to facilitate a 50% increase in circulation (from 4000/week to 6000/week). We have made the decision to increase circulation and mailings due to the constant demand for additional copies. We feel that the increased exposure will more than outweigh the cost. All current advertisers will receive a copy of the new rate schedule, those who do not can obtain one at the office of The Wanderer.

Having previously built models of the Bermuda Star and the Andrea Doria, Mr. Matthew's latest project was inevitable, having admitted to the students he is something of a Titanic buff himself. And though the kit gave him a good base from which to start, he took painstaking efforts to make the model as authentic as possible — even to the point of painting the hull with a grey primer before applying the final black exterior coat.

"Models are not usually this detailed," he said. "I did put in a lot of extra work like anchors, whistles, and funnels ... even some rust and flaking paint on the hull. Most of my research was based on the many paintings of the ship."

For the past few years, students in Ms. Moncevitch's Grade 3 class have been treated to a monthlong multidisciplinary study of the ill-fated Titanic as a means of learning about everything from navigation to flotation to astronomy to creative writing. Each student in the class assumes the identity of one of the known passengers and is assigned the task of writing a personal journal and "playing the role" in a classroom re-enactment which follows the ship from its point of departure — Southampton, England on April 10, 1912 — to the moment some four nights later when it struck an iceberg at 11:40 pm.

During the final harrowing hours, the "unsinkable" vessel took on water and eventually sank to the bottom of the ocean off the coast of New Finland at 2:20 am on April 15, 1912 — taking an estimated 1,500 passengers with it.

Upon reading about Ms. Moncevitch's monthlong study — which she calls "Appointment with an Iceberg" — Mr. Matthew felt his model could be used to teach students about all the intricate details of the ship ... and provide them with a visual cue for their study.

"I've been interested in the Titanic for a long time," he said. "I can remember singing the Titanic song at camp when I was young ... and I've been reading and researching about it ever since."

Despite his wealth of knowledge on the subject, Mr. Matthew was nearly overwhelmed with the questions asked of him during his presentation to the Grade 3 class. Each student had prepared a drawing depicting one aspect of the ship, its passengers, or the voyage, and then posed a question about that topic. The collected drawings were presented to Mr. Matthew in a photo album.

One student wanted to know about the watertight doors installed in the lower compartments. "There were sixteen compartments in the lower level," Mr. Matthew noted. "Each was equipped with water-tight doors which were operated by a friction clutch ... allowing the doors to slowly close off the compartment if it began filling with water."

And what about the crow's nest from which the crew member was unable to see the destructive iceberg? "You have to remember that out on the ocean it's very dark," Mr. Matthew said. "If you were up in the crow's nest, it would be difficult to see — especially from a distance.

"Even if the crew member did see the iceberg in time, they would have only had about 37 seconds to stop the ship from hitting it. That wouldn't have even been enough time to kill the engines and slow the ship down."

resident Francis Millet was last seen before the ship went down? "The smoking room was probably the most beautiful room on the whole ship," Mr. Matthew said. "Francis Millet (whose home still exists on the corner of Water and Cannon Streets) was last seen playing cards in the smoking room ... waiting for the ship to sink."

What about the famous "unsinkable" Molly Brown? "She was a very strong-willed individual who took over one of the lifeboats and made sure everyone managed to survive," he said. "I sometimes think she wasn't as brazen as people depict her."

And the never-ending enigma of what selection was the band's swan song as the vessel began to creep underwater? "That's always been of particular interest to me, because I'm a musician aboard an ocean liner," Mr. Matthew said. "Many different songs have been suggested, but I tend to think it was 'Song D'Octobre.' Other people have said that the band probably wasn't all together when the ship went down ... and there could have been two or three smaller groups playing different numbers."

An artist, painter and musician who currently resides in Dallas, Texas, Ered Matthew took great pride in discussing one of his favorite topics. He marvelled at the intelligent queries of the students, and ended his presentation with a final, solemn account of the RMS Titanic's final moments.

"The reports from the survivors who testified at the hearing were rather sketchy," he said. "I believe the ship did break in half at the surface (of the water), with the weight of the forward part snapping the remainder of the hull in half. But with a ship as big as the Titanic, I don't think we'll ever know for sure."

Two gold plaques adorn the glass-encased model which Mr. Matthew and his family have donated to Center School. The first provides all the specifications of the infamous vessel, including: "White Star Line Royal Steamship Titanic; 883 x 46,328 GRT; Launched 31 May, 1911; Harland & Wolff, Belfast; Maiden Voyage 10 April, 1912." The second plaque simply states: "Presented to the children of Center School, Mattapoisett, MA; In loving memory of Richard A. Keyes, by Raymond E. Dextraze and family."

Mr. Matthew's father was both pleased and proud that his son decided not only to build the model, but also to dedicate it in memory of his late friend who was something of an avid Titanic researcher himself. "Dick (Keyes) was always fascinated with the Titanic story," Mr. Dextraze said. "He was the person who actually got me into collecting antique toys ... so when I came across the model kit, I immediately bought it and gave it to (Ered). It was sitting around for years before he called me and told me what he wanted to do."

Mattapoisett Selectmen's Meeting June 20, 1995

A regular meeting of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen was called to order on Tuesday, June 20 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Paul E. Lambalot. Also present were Selectman John N. DeCosta, Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney, and Executive Secretary Carol J. Adams.

At 7:00 pm the board met with Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson to discuss some total coliform levels detected in the town water supply. Mr. Nicholson noted that during routine testing, they discovered a small amount of total coliform within the water samples taken from two locations: the intersection of Church and Barstow Streets, and the area of Shaw Street. Both locations were the site of coliform contamination two years ago, but the current levels are not considered dangerous.

"This bacteria is found everyday in the environment, and is not harmful in itself," Mr. Nicholson said. "We've contacted the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and have been flushing the system and continue to conduct daily testing. We aren't suggesting any precautions be taken ... but if people are concerned they might want to boil their water prior to use."

Mr. Nicholson added that a recent fire flow testing of the hydrant system may have caused some stirring up of sediment within the system and increased the coliform levels. If residents have any questions or concerns, they are advised to contact the Water/Sewer Department by calling 758-4161.

At 7:15 pm the board met with resident Steve Hanna to discuss the recent renovations which need to be done on the beach house at the town beach. "I thought the bathing beach issue was done," he informed the board, "but last week I read about the problems with the bath house. I managed to collect a total of 34 personal checks, all payable to the Town of Mattapoisett, to offset the cost of fixing the bath

Mr. Hanna presented the board with the stack of checks totalling $175 in donations. "The beach is one of our most important assets in this town," Mr. Hanna said. "Without our waterfront we might as well be Brockton." The board thanked Mr. Hanna for his efforts and also noted they will thank the donors for their contributions.

After approving the minutes of the June 13 meeting and signing the warrant, licenses, permits and correspondence for the week, the board unanimously approved a request from ComGas to obstruct and disturb the surface of 8 Gosnold Street for the purpose of installing a new gas service.

Under meetings scheduled for the week, Ms.

• Friday, June 23 at 3:00 pm — Meeting with Board of Selectmen, Highway Surveyor, and Finance Committee in Town Hall.

 Friday, June 30 at 3:00 pm — Hurricane Preparedness Meeting with Com/Electric in Town Hall.

Under incoming correspondence for the week, the board received a request from SRPEDD to support a grant application for the purpose of preserving the future of the cranberry industry in southeastern Massachusetts, and protecting the upland area. A letter of support was thereby drafted, signed and unanimously approved by the board.

Appeals next requested permission to purchase a Panasonic laser printer at a quoted price of $589 including installation, programming, and connecting cord. The board unanimously approved the request.

Superintendent of Schools Joan M. Walsh next requested permission to dispose of several surplus items that are either beyond repair, damaged, or obsolete as per a vote of the Mattapoisett School Committee. The board unanimously approved the request to dispose of three pages of material (a total of some 122 items).

Janice Spark of the Shipyard Galley next sent a letter regarding the 15-minute parking zones outside her establishment on Water Street. Ms. Spark said she would like to see parking remain the same as it has been (with a 15-minute limit) and that the parking limit be enforced.

Chairman Lambalot noted he had observed the parking situation in that area over the weekend, and he felt the same way. "I think we should continue to maintain a 15-minute parking limit on the south side of Water Street," he said.

Selectman Mahoney moved that the area directly in front of Shipyard Park, however, be restricted to parking. "I would move to post 'no parking this side' signs from (Romeo's/Mello's) property to the end of Shipyard Park," he said. The board unanimously approved the motion.

The board noted that Recreation Director John Shockro had informed them that the Bathing Beach will be open with minimum staffing from June 24 through June 30 between the hours of 10:00 am and 4:00 pm. The official opening of the beach, with full staff, will begin July 1. Anyone interested in serving for the taking of herring ... and how these regulations should be carried out," Mr. Kolek said.

Ken Reback noted that the herring population within the Mattapoisett River is the property of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the responsibility of managing this resource is given to the local Board of Selectmen. He also cited a written agreement which had been signed between Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester regarding the taking of this resource.

"Any regulations established by the town are subject to the approval of the Division of Marine Fisheries," Mr. Reback said.

Chairman Lambalot noted that the biggest problem seems to be knowing what limits to place on the number of fish which can be taken from the river. Phil Brady noted that the state has been monitoring the herring population in the Snipatuit River since 1988 — with assistance from Alewives Anonymous — and they have been running an electric counter at the site to keep an accurate tabulation.

"In 1988 we calculated some 22,000 fish per year ... in 1995 the number was closer to 45,000 fish per year," Mr. Brady said. "As of May 27, 1995, the count was 74,533 ... and those numbers don't include the number harvested lower in the (herring) run."

Mr. Brady went on to explain how they did some calculations based on a three-year moving average of fish in the run and came up with an estimate of 43,000 fish per year within the Mattapoisett River run. "There are enough adult male fish to sustain the run," he said. "With an expected 20,000 female fish times 100,000 potential eggs, you're looking at a total of 2 billions eggs ... which would produced nearly 22 million juveniles."

When asked what the limit should be for daily catches, Mr. Brady said the state would recommend a 25 percent maximum if they are planning to rebuilding the herring population ... and up to a 60 percent take if the resource is considered to be at peak. Most of those present agreed the 25 percent limit would be beneficial to help conserve and rebuild the towns' resource.

"Using the 25 percent limit, you can bring the (herring) population back to its historic high," Mr. Reback said. "We're suggesting you can still harvest twice as much than your current limit and still see the population increase."

Based on the average of 43,000 fish per year, a 25 limit would set the maximum take at nearly 11,000 per year, or 100 bushels of herring. The current maximum limit for the tri-town area is 50 bushels.

Mr. Reback also added that if the local governing boards did not have regulations in place, the state limits of 25 per day per person would take effect. He also suggested they might want to consider opening the fishing season to three or four days a week (instead of just Saturday) in 1996.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:50 pm.

A regular meeting of the Rochester Board of Selectmen was called to order on Monday, June 19 at 7:00 pm by Chairman Michael Murphy. Also present were Selectman David L. Hughes, Selectman Lorraine Roy Hawkes and Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

Before commencing with regular business, Chairman Murphy asked for a moment of silence in memory of Donald Jenkins, the town's longtime Tree Warden, who just passed away. The board then met with Chief Dispatcher Susan Kucinski and candidates Patricia Knight and Scott Boyd who expressed interest in serving as part-time dispatchers with the Communications Department. Both Ms. Knight and Mr. Boyd agreed to undergo a training period prior to working without supervision.

The board unanimously voted to appoint both Ms. Knight and Mr. Boyd — along with former full-time dispatcher Elmer Lawrence — as part-time emergency dispatchers with the Communications Department, effective immediately.

Under incoming correspondence, the board received a letter of resignation from dispatcher Kelly Hartley, who is leaving the Communications Department due to "conflict of schedule and personal matters." Ms. Hartley's last day of employment will be June 30. Selectman Hughes moved to accept Ms. Hartley's letter with regret, and asked that a letter of appreciation be sent to her for her past two and a half years of service.

In an attached memo to the board, Chief Dispatcher Sue Kucinski noted that July 1 is fast-approaching, which is the start date for three new full-time positions within the Communications Department (one of which was to be Ms. Hartley's). Therefore, she is recommending the board consider appointing part-time dispatcher Kathryn O'Brien to fill the vacancy.

Selectman Hawkes noted, however, that in fairness they should also contact Hilda Leconte, who had also previously expressed interest in working full-time with the Communications Department. "When we interviewed people for the full-time position, she was another qualified candidate," she said. "I'm not disagreeing with (Ms. Kucinski's) recommendation ... I just think we should at least contact (Ms. Leconte)."

In a related matter, Ms. Kucinski noted she had received a letter from Police Chief Walter V. Denham regarding the procedure for answering the telephone at the Communications Center. As a way of reducing confusion when the public calls the Rochester Police lines, Chief Denham suggested the dispatchers answer: "Rochester Communications, Dispatcher (name)." This would let the caller(s) know they are speaking with a civilian dispatcher and not a police officer.

Although Selectman Hawkes agreed with the suggestion, Chairman Murphy felt with the soon-to-be-installed Enhanced-911 system, it would cause more confusion. "I think the procedure has worked fine so far," he said. "I don't think we need to be changing horses mid-stream. Once E-911 is put in, people will know they're calling an emergency number." A motion was made to keep the current procedure in place, which was passed via majority vote (with Selectman Hawkes in opposition).

Also under incoming correspondence, the board received a request from the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD) to support legislation which would preserve upland areas for cranberry bog growers. With some 950 acres of cranberry bogs in Rochester, all of which is supported by 3,300 acres of upland area, SRPEDD felt a letter of support from the Town of Rochester would be appropriate. The board unanimously voted to send a letter of support to SRPEDD regarding this matter.

The board next signed and approved an unemployment invoice in the amount of $32.21 for a former town employee (majority vote, with Selectman Hughes abstaining); and a legal invoice from Kopelman and Paige, P.C. in the amount of $4,727.63 (unanimous vote).

At 7:30 pm the board met with three residents from Featherbed Lane to discuss the town's discontinuance of the road. Resident Julie St. Don noted she had been before the Planning Board seeking a variance for frontage along Featherbed Lane for her 14-acre lot. Currently, they have frontage along Braley Hill Road.

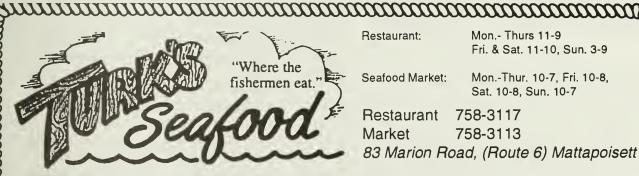

"Since the road has been discontinued, the only thing (the Planning Board) could suggest is to see if maybe you could put the road back on the books," Ms. St. Don said.

"We can't do that," Selectman Hughes noted. "The road was discontinued for maintenance ... by a Town Meeting vote. The only way around it would be to put an article on a Special Town Meeting warrant, which would require a petition signed by the residents (on Featherbed Lane)." The board agreed to send Ms. St. Don information on how to go about this procedure and how many signatures would be required to get an article on the warrant.

Under Old Business, Selectman Hughes and Chairman Murphy voted to approve the Earth Removal Permit for Mr. Zyskowski to begin Phase II, commencing July 1, 1995. Selectman Hawkes voted in opposition only because she didn't support the hauling of material on Saturday.

The Board of Health sent a response regarding the Roy property located on Wolf Island Road, and noted: "John Lafreniere and Karen Walega conducted an inspection of the property in regards to a complaint that was received. (They) observed approximately ten to twelve abandoned vehicles, marine equipment, empty water tanks, ropes, electrical parts, log splitter, marine lights, trailer, battery charger, engines and pipes. (They) did not notice any materials such as waste oil in the area or leaking fluids from cars. There are also no potential spills on the property." Selectman Hughes asked that a copy of the letter be sent to Mattapoisett, Marion and Fairhaven.

The board received a letter from Bernard Talty, who wished to express his sympathy at the passing of Tree Warden Donald Jenkins and to offer his services to fill out the term as he has worked with Mr. Jenkins. "I worked very closely with several area Tree Wardens, including Mr. Jenkins ... (and) if the board seeks someone for the interim, I would be honored to be considered for the position,"

Mr. Talty was present at the meeting and the board asked him to come forward. Selectman Hughes noted that at this point they have asked if anyone else is interested in the position. The board agreed to wait until notice had been given for anyone interested to apply, and then would appoint someone to fill out the remainder of Mr. Jenkins' term (through April, 1996). Any persons interested in be considered for the vacancy should send a letter and/or resume to the Board of Selectmen, Rochester Town Hall, 1 Constitution Way, Rochester, MA 02770.

Under New Business, the board unanimously voted to approve a recommendation from Town Accountant Claudette Coutu to change town employee pay day to Thursday, with the signing of the payroll warrant to take place on Wednesday. Payroll vouchers will still be due by Monday at 12:00 noon for payment that week.

The board also requested a meeting with Police Chief Walter Denham next week to discuss a plan for submitting third-party detail vouchers. Selectman Hughes suggested a four-part bill, a copy of which would go to the customer, the police department, the Town Treasurer, and the Town Accountant. The board felt this was the only way to keep an accurate account of detail payments.

In a related matter, Police Chief Denham also submitted the names of two candidates from a group of 40 which had expressed interest in filling a full-time position with the department. Although both the chief and lieutenant had conducted interviews with the candidates and narrowed them down to two, Chairman Murphy said he would like to see the resumes of all the candidates to review. "I would just like to review the others' qualifications before making a final decision," he said.

But Selectman Hawkes argued that as the department head, Chief Denham should be responsible for the hiring within the department. "Tonight you said you had no problem with (Chief Dispatcher) Sue Kucinski recommending someone for her department," Ms. Hawkes said. "Now, you're questioning Chief Denham's recommendation."

The board agreed to meet with the Police Chief and two top candidates next week, and Chairman Murphy said he would get copies of the applicants' resumes to review before that time.

Under Personnel Board business, Chief Dispatcher Sue Kucinski and dispatcher Kim Eldridge came before the board to discuss setting the wages for both the two full-time positions and Chief Dispatcher position with the Communications Department. Last week, the board argued over whether the rate of pay should set according to the budget prepared and approved by the Finance Committee, or the four percent increase voted by Town Meeting.

Chairman Murphy explained to Ms. Kucinski that the board based the rates on what the previous part-time Chief Dispatcher received ($9.45 plus four percent, or $9.83/hour) and what the sole full-time dispatcher received ($9.93 plus four percent, or $10.33/hour). But Selectman Hawkes felt the four percent increase should be added to what was previously agreed upon by both the Board of Selectmen and Finance Committee — setting the rates at $10.40/hour for full-time dispatchers, and $10.92/hour for chief dispatcher.

Selectman Hughes offered a compromise. "I know what you're asking for," he said. "Why don't we set the (pay rates) at $10/hour (for full-time) and $10.50/hour (for chief dispatcher) just for this year. I've checked with some of the surrounding towns ... and that seems to be the median."

The board unanimously approved these rates

AN OFFER SELLER CAN'T REFUSE

Most people assume that the highest bidder will always get the nod from a home seller, but in many situations this is not the case. The highest bidder does not always win. A smart seller will often accept a lower offer from someone who is certain to qualify for a mortgage rather than worry about a financially shaky buyer who might not even qualify for a loan to consummate the sale.

If the market is one where homes don't stay available for even a short time at the asking price, the buyer might want to make the offer one that will be hard to refuse. For example, sellers are very impressed if you can strike the finance contingency clause from the contract. (This is the clause that releases the buyer from the contract without losing the deposit if he cannot qualify for a mortgage.) However, do not even CONSIDER scratching the mortgage contingency clause unless you have the cash on hand to complete the transaction.

Dear Mattapoisett residents — thank you for voting "yes" to funding a fully operational town beach. Your vote will provide swimming lessons for the children and a safe place for all to swim. Sincerely,

William Cornish, Kenneth Correia, Ellen Driscoll, Marilyn Kinney Lee, and Kathy McCarthy Mattapoisett

To the Editor:

First of all, thanks for providing a great service to our community with The Wanderer. It's my only source for local news and I make it a point to patronize many of your regular advertisers.

Your recent news coverage of the Memorial Day Boat Race in your June 2 issue was well-written and it was a thrill for me to see my daughter's name (Holly Smith) in print. However, would you consider a small correction relative to the Junior Girls Division? Holly and Caitlin (Trahan) were the sole finishers and not the sole team. Their competition (#71 or 72) dropped out at Wolf Island Road after being passed by Holly and Caitlin cutting more than 15 minutes off their time at that point.

I know it's a small point, but it implies that there was no competitive element in their efforts. Thanks!
Sincerely,

Tim Smith Mattapoisett

Men's Fellowship Tomlinson Award

The Men's Fellowship serving Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester will hold its Annual Meeting on June 25. One of the highlights will be the presentation of the 1995 Joe Tomlinson Fellowship Award. This award is presented annually to the person selected without regard to age, sex or religious affiliation who has given unselfishly of themselves for the good of others and for which there has been no personal, economic or political gain to themselves.

The recipient of this year's Joe Tomlinson Fellowship Award selected by secret ballot from nominations made by the citizens of the Tri-Town area is Joseph McCarthy of Rochester. He was selected because of his outstanding service to the elderly as well as for his many good deeds to those in need in the community.

A June breakfast meeting honoring Joe McCarthy, at which the award will be given, will be held at St. Gabriel's Parish Hall at 9:00 am on Sunday, June 25. All persons who wish to attend are invited to come to the Award Breakfast Meeting. Early-bird coffee will be served at 8:45 am prior to the meeting.

Student Receives Annual Award

Mattapoisett Road Race

The twenty-fifth running of the July 4 Mattapoisett Road Race will take place on Tuesday, July 4 at 10:00 am. The committee has been working extra hard to make the silver running of this event more successful than in the past years.

The race begins in front of Shipyard Park at 10:00 am. There is plenty of parking at Center School on Barstow Street, one block from the park. Registration forms are available at Seaport Pharmacy and area sporting stores and sports clubs. Pick up of shirts and numbers will be Monday evening, July 3, between 5:00 and 8:00 pm at Shipyard Park. This will also be the final opportunity to register for the race as there are no post entries the day of the race.

The first running of the July 4 race was started with the pop of a firecracker and was guided by a lone Army truck. Last year's race included over 500 competitors, an accurately-measured five mile course, a complete list of all finishers, their place, and times, awards for many age groups and categories, and a sizable prize raffle. The 1995 race will include all of this and much more.

The July 4 Mattapoisett Road Race is ideal for both recreational and competitive runners. Some of the race's more notable past competitors include Olympian and former Boston Marathon winner Geoff Smith, Johnny "Mr. Boston Marathon" Kelly, and Liz Coughlin, the Olympic medalist in the 10,000-meter run. The registration fee for this race is $10, and in celebration of its 25th year all competitors from the first running will compete for

Sippican School Space Plan

The Marion School Committee has chosen Archetype Architecture, Inc. of Boston to study the many uses of Sippican School and plan for its space needs in the coming years. The school committee, armed with a $15,000 appropriation approved at last year's Town Meeting, interviewed nine architectural/planning firms before choosing Archetype. Planners visited the school and talked to staff in order to make proposals to the committee. The committee announced their selection at its June 7 meeting.

Archetype Architecture has done similar studies in Lexington, Wellesley, and Westwood. The Sippican School study, which will involve parent, staff and community input, is expected to be finished in early 1996. Results are expected to be presented at next year's Town Meeting.

Sippican School has experienced significant growth in the past nine years. Since 1986, the school has grown almost by one-third, from 338 students to 472 now enrolled. Projections have tended to underestimate growth — for instance, it was projected that next year, 470 students would be attending Sippican School. That number, obviously, has been reached already. As of now, the administration knows of 487 students headed for the school. These projections do not include children who may occupy major new developments.

Sippican still uses the original school building, constructed in 1937. This wooden part of the building, the west wing of the school, must be redesigned. Other additions were made in 1954 and 1972. Such modern-day concerns as asbestos tiles and handicap accessibility must be addressed throughout the school. In addition, such modern technological teaching tools as computer communication aids will require re-wiring of the building.

A Nautical Show

A two-person exhibition with a nautical theme is now on display at the Marion Art Center through June 28. Limited edition prints by Willard Bond and model boats by Jack Gordon are featured in this show. Willard Bond is an internationally-known artist who received formal training at the Art Institute of Chicago, Pratt Institute and the Art Students League of New York.

In 1976, the Bicentennial celebration brought "Operation Sail" to New York and Mr. Bond, as a night Pier Master at South Street Seaport, found himself occupying a ring side seat. "I had always loved ships, but watching the ships from all over the world ... turned me around," he said. "Ships and the sea have always been my repertoire ... but not like this!"

His first subjects were square-riggers, but he soon moved on to the more personally inspirational ocean racers that have become his trademark. There is something about the movement, the power and the speed in his work which captures the action familiar to all sailors. Mr. Bond delivers these moments in "At the Mark," "Running Home," and "First Around," to name just a few.

Jack Gordon works in his own studio in Skaneateles, NY, specializing in models of smaller craft, working and pleasure, sail and power. From weather-beaten rowboats to varnished raceboats, from the boats you grew up with to the boats you wished you had owned — all are the products of Frog Pond boat models. All Mr. Gordon's pieces are hand-crafted from white pine and mahogany and are developed from plans of the actual boats. The models are finished with varnish and often enhanced with a "weathered" finish evoking the actual use and history of the craft. Custom cases are also available.

The Nautical Show is on display in the Cecil Clark Davis Gallery at the Marion Art Center. Paintings and prints by artist members of the MAC are featured in the Patsy Francis Gallery, which has recently been improved with new lighting and air conditioning. All work is for sale. Both galleries are open to the public Tuesday through Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm, and Saturday 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. Admission is FREE.

Also featured this week is "Lion Face," a gorgeous ginger-colored long-haired, declawed and neutered male. Both types of compost bins are on display outside the Board of Health office on the second floor of Town Hall, along with brochures about composting. Both are rodent-resistant, have openings for efficient aerobic composting and can be easily-assembled without tools. They differ primarily in appearance and capacity: the more compact Earth Machine is better suited to small urban lots, while the Brave New Composter can handle larger volumes of yard waste.

It takes 32 days to make a bar of Vermont Country Scap Each bar is handmade in small batches at our shop in Brandon, Vermont.

Our special blend of natural ingredients is mixed in stainless steel kettles. We add essential oils corris root for lasting fragrance. When ready, it is poured into wooden molds to set. The scap is hand cut and cured for Yweeks. Scap made in this manner lasts twice as long as commercial scaps and contains all of natures glycerine.

Thank you & Enjoy Larry Plesent
